INVESTMENT COMMITTEE · AUGUST 2026 · FOR APPROVAL

451 White Horse Pike, Atco NJ

Recommendation: acquire at $1,100,000, all cash. Ceiling $1,250,000.
A corner drive-thru on a Philadelphia–shore highway, bought at the value of the building alone — with 2.5 developable acres thrown in for nothing.

WE PAY	DAY-ONE YIELD	TARGET RETURN	WORST CASE
$1.10M	12.0%	18.2%	+5.4%
$250/SF · they ask $1.6M	$132,000 NNN, in place	24.2% with a mortgage	No modelled case loses money

Why it is cheap: the sitting cannabis tenant pays 36% over market rent. We refuse to pay for rent that leaves with them — so we bid what the building is worth let to a bank or a doctor, and take everything else as free option value.

The whole deal on one page.

WE PAY	IT IS WORTH	TARGET RETURN	WORST CASE
$1,100,000	$1,252,500	18.2%	+5.4%
$250/SF · 12.0% day-one yield	Four independent methods	24.2% with a mortgage	No modelled case loses money

WHAT IT IS

A 4,400 SF corner building on 3.13 acres at US Route 30 and Cooper Folly Road, Atco NJ. Former bank branch with a vault and a 3-lane drive-thru. 15,370 cars a day.

Let to a single-location cannabis dispensary at $132,000/yr absolute NNN with 6.5 years left. No rent increases. Two personal guarantees, no corporate covenant.

Asking $1,600,000.

WHY WE CAN BUY IT WELL

The dispensary pays $30.00/SF. Any ordinary tenant pays $22.00. That premium belongs to their licence, not our building, and it leaves when they do.

So we bid what the building is worth let to a bank or a doctor. 85% of the $500,000 gap between their price and ours is that single question.

At our price the cannabis rent, the renewal option and 2.5 spare acres are free.

WHY THE DOWNSIDE IS CONTAINED

68% of our price is covered by land and empty shell alone. 78% of it comes back as contracted rent before the lease even ends.

Break-even rent is $21.25/SF against a $22.00 market. Every one of six modelled exits makes money.

The honest caveat: a 55% mortgage turns the floor case into a small loss. Cash or low leverage keeps every case positive.

WHAT WE ARE ASKING THE COMMITTEE TO APPROVE

An offer of $1,100,000, all cash, 30-day diligence, 15-day close — with authority to $1,250,000. Walk away above $1,300,000. Two items gate the growth case and must be confirmed in diligence: the tenant's sales figures, and whether the lease demises all 3.13 acres.

A corner drive-thru on a shore-bound highway, on three acres it barely uses.

THE PROPERTY

Address	451 White Horse Pike (US Route 30), Atco — Waterford Township, Camden County NJ
Building	±4,400 SF freestanding Tax assessor records show 4,206 SF — measure before closing
Site	±3.13 acres — building covers just 3.2%
Position	Corner of Route 30 and Cooper Folly Road Two frontages: signage both ways, and entry off the side road instead of across highway traffic
Built	1960 as a bank branch; refitted 2023 Vault and secure infrastructure still in place — a bank can move straight back in
Feature	3-lane drive-thru — rare, and the reason the tenant pool is wide
Traffic	±15,370 vehicles a day, Philadelphia to the Jersey Shore
Zoning	Planned Highway Business; Pinelands Regional Growth Area The most development-friendly of the six

THE TENANT AND THE LEASE

Tenant	Holistic Solutions — NJ medical and adult-use cannabis dispensary Founded 2018. One location. Private. Three-plus years trading here
Covenant	Two personal guarantees No parent company, no credit rating, no financials in the offering
Lease type	Absolute NNN — tenant pays taxes, insurance, maintenance, roof and structure Genuinely valuable: the landlord has no obligations at all
Term	1 Feb 2023 to 31 Jan 2033 — 6.5 years left
Rent	$132,000/yr — $30.00/SF, flat No increases for the entire ten-year term. This is the flaw we buy at a discount and intend to fix
Option	One 5-year renewal at $154,000, entirely at the tenant's choice A 14.0% yield on our basis if they take it — upside, never underwritten as income

THE TWO FEATURES THAT DRIVE THIS WHOLE ANALYSIS

They are selling us a rent that walks out the door. We are buying the building underneath it.

WHAT WE ARE BUYING

Property	4,400 SF freestanding building on 3.13 acres, corner of US Route 30 and Cooper Folly Road Former bank branch. Vault, 3-lane drive-thru, big parking field. 15,370 cars a day.
Tenant	Cannabis dispensary, one location, private Three years trading here. Two personal guarantees, no corporate covenant.
Lease	$132,000/yr, absolute NNN, 6.5 years left Tenant pays taxes, insurance, roof, structure. Landlord does nothing. No rent increases.
Asking	$1,600,000 — an 8.25% yield Priced as if $30/SF were a market rent. It is not.
We offer	$1,100,000 — a 12.0% yield $250/SF, below replacement cost and below the county's own valuation.

THE WHOLE THESIS

The dispensary pays $30/SF. Any ordinary tenant pays $22. That 36% premium belongs to their licence, not to our building — and it disappears when they leave.

So we refuse to pay for it. We bid what the building is worth let to a bank or a doctor: $1.1M.

WHAT THAT BUYS US FOR NOTHING

- 6.5 years of above-market cannabis rent
- The tenant's renewal option at $154,000
- A 3-lane drive-thru on a corner
- 2.5 undeveloped acres — the growth

The $500,000 gap is one argument, not five.

BRIDGING THEIR ASK TO OUR OFFER

Their ask $132,000 contract rent ÷ 8.25%	$1,600,000
1. Use market rent, not their tenant's rent $22.00/SF = $96,800, capitalised at the same 8.25%	($426,700)
2. Widen the yield for lease quality 8.25% → 8.75% for flat rent, 6.5 years, personal guarantees	($67,000)
3. Negotiating margin	($6,300)
Our offer $250/SF · a 12.0% yield on the rent in place	$1,100,000

WHAT THIS MEANS AT THE TABLE

85% of the gap is a single question: is $30.00/SF a market rent? Everything else is rounding. Do not negotiate the cap rate — negotiate the rent, and let their own comps settle it.

WHAT THEY SAY — AND HOW WE READ IT

THEIR SELLING POINT	OUR READ
"8.25% cap rate"	Right arithmetic, wrong rent. On market rent their price is a 6.05% cap
"Absolute NNN, zero landlord obligations"	Agreed — genuinely valuable, and part of why our floor holds
"3-lane drive-thru"	Agreed — the best feature in the deal and the reason the tenant pool is wide
"±3.13 acres, room to expand"	Agreed — and we value it at zero, so it is free to us
"Below replacement cost"	At their $363/SF, barely. At our $250/SF, decisively
"Double personal guarantee"	Two individuals is not a covenant. Worth ~75bps, not a headline
"Barrier-to-entry licensed industry"	Cuts both ways — only two licences in the township means a thin re-let market for cannabis

Every lease comp, both sides, one schedule.

WHY THE FLOOR HOLDS

Land and empty shell alone are worth $750,000 — 68% of our price. Only ~$350,000 is genuinely at risk, against an income stream of $132,000 a year.

CASH BACK FAST

Contracted rent to 2033 is $858,000 — 78% of the purchase price returned before the lease even matures. No renewal, refinancing or resale required.

ONE HONEST CAVEAT

Debt cuts both ways. In the floor case a 55% mortgage turns +5.4% into −3.7%. If the floor must hold in every case, buy for cash or borrow 35–40%.

Six tenants want this building. The two best need almost no work.

Fast food or coffee drive-thru	$38–48	7.6–9.6%	18–24 mo	$286,000	15–20 yrs	Yes — but needs the box split; better on the spare land

Ordinary shop or service	$18–22	7.2–8.8%	8–12 mo	$132,000	5–10 yrs	No — rolls every five years. The outcome to avoid

THE OBJECTIVE: ONE RE-LETTING, NOT PERPETUAL CHURN

We want a single re-letting to a tenant on a 10–15 year lease with rent increases — then it goes quiet for a decade. That is why medical and banking rank first; they spend heavily fitting out

HOW LONG, STEP BY STEP

Find a tenant	4–9 mo	Agree the lease	2–3 mo

The building sits on 3.13 acres. It uses 3% of them.

IDLE LAND	NEW INCOME	VALUE CREATED	YIELD ON COST
2.48 ac	$100k	$931k	12% → 21%
Coverage is 3.2% of the site	Per year, on land earning zero	Net of build-out cost	On the same $1.1M basis

TWO INCOME STREAMS, NEITHER OF THEM PAID FOR

$80,000 Ground-lease a pad. Fast food, coffee, car wash or a medical building. The tenant builds at their own cost; we let them the dirt.

$20,000 Licence space for EV charging. Six to eight rapid chargers. The operator funds all the equipment and pays us a share of revenue.

THE SELLER'S OWN COMPS PROVE THIS

He sent us drive-thru pad deals on this exact kind of highway: 7 Brew at $155,000 a year, Wendy's at $157,659, Wawa at $325,000. Those are build-to-suit rents; a ground lease runs 40–55% of that. Our $80,000 is the conservative read.

WHAT IT DOES TO THE DEAL

Buy at our offer	$1,100,000
Monetise the spare land	$2,508,000
Re-let building on a proper lease	$2,492,000
Ordinary tenant → it becomes mortgageable	$2,653,000
Less land works, fit-out, letting fees	($466,800)
Stabilised value	$2,186,000

Roughly double our entry price over about ten years — about 7% compound growth in value, on top of the rent collected the whole way through.

Our price is what makes this financeable at all.

High-street banks will not lend against a cannabis-let building — which is exactly why these assets sell cheap. This needs a private lender or credit union at roughly 9–11%. At our price the numbers work comfortably. At theirs, a lender would decline.

PURCHASE PRICE	LOAN AT 55%	CASH IN	ANNUAL LOAN COST	RENT COVERS IT	CASH RETURN	OVERALL RETURN

WHAT 2.00× COVER MEANS

The rent is double the loan payment. Lenders want 1.25× and get nervous below it. At their ask the cover falls to 1.38× — thin enough that most lenders decline outright.

THE CROSSOVER IS $1,250,000

At our price, borrowing adds nearly 3 points. At $1.25M it is neutral. Above that the loan costs more than the building earns. The same ceiling our valuation produced, reached independently.

AND IT IS A NEGOTIATING CARD

Because almost no buyer can finance this, all cash in 45 days is worth real money to a seller whose alternative is a buyer whose loan dies in diligence. Sell that hard.

What kills this deal, and why it does not.

THE REAL RISK: CAN THE TENANT PAY?

Under this lease the shop carries rent plus taxes, insurance and upkeep — $193,400 a year, or $43.95 per foot. It needs roughly $2.15M of annual sales to carry that comfortably.

IF THE SHOP TURNS OVER	$2.0M	$2.5M	$3.0M
Occupancy cost	9.7%	7.7%	6.4%
Verdict	Struggling	Tight	Fine

WHY IT DOES NOT SINK US

We priced the building as if the tenant were already gone. Our $1.1M is what it is worth let to any ordinary tenant at $22/SF. We do not need this dispensary to survive.

FOUR LAYERS UNDER THE PRICE

$1.11M

Ordinary-tenant value. Our offer equals what the building fetches let to a bank or doctor. Zero exposure to the cannabis rent.

68%

Covered by dirt and shell. $750,000 of hard asset value behind a $1.1M price.

$21.25

Break-even rent per foot versus a $22.00 market — and the seller's own signed comp on this road confirms $22.

2.00×

Debt cover. Rent is double the loan payment. Lenders want 1.25×.

TWO THINGS TO CONFIRM BEFORE HARD MONEY

1. The tenant's actual sales figures — the single most valuable number in diligence.
2. Whether the lease demises all 3.13 acres. If it does, the land plan waits until 2033. Our price does not depend on it either way.

How wrong can we be and still be fine?

IF WE ARE WRONG ABOUT THE TENANT RENEWING

CHANCE THEY RENEW	AT $1.10M	AT $1.25M	AT THEIR $1.60M

60%	13.36%	10.62%	5.68%
90% — near certain	15.22%	12.47%	7.50%

IF WE ARE WRONG ABOUT MARKET RENT

MARKET RENT PROVES TO BE	ANNUAL RENT	YIELD TO US	VALUE
$16.00 — below anything on the road	$70,400	6.40%	$804,600
$18.00 — bottom of the range	$79,200	7.20%	$905,100
$22.00 — our assumption	$96,800	8.80%	$1,106,300
$25.74 —

BOTH TESTS POINT THE SAME WAY

Cut the renewal odds in half and our offer still returns 10.5%. Market rent would have to fall to about $18/SF — below every comparable on this corridor except strip units — before our price stopped being covered by the building alone.

The case does not rest on any single assumption.

WHO BUYS IT FROM US IN 2033

Cannabis tenant renewed, 5 years left	$1,664,900	Cannabis specialists only — cash buyers, small pool
Re-let to a bank on a long lease	$1,320,000	Ordinary tenant → banks will lend → the national market opens
Re-let to a medical tenant	$1,362,600	Medical property is in stronger demand still
Empty — land and building only	$750,000	A local owner-operator or developer

THE COUNTER-INTUITIVE POINT

Losing the cannabis tenant is not purely bad news. An ordinary tenant on a long lease makes the building mortgageable, which widens the buyer pool from a handful of cash specialists to the

What we verify before a dollar is at risk.

THE TWO THAT ACTUALLY MATTER

1. The tenant's sales figures. The shop carries $193,400 a year all-in and needs roughly $2.15M of turnover to do it comfortably. This one number sets the renewal odds the model turns on.

2. Does the lease demise all 3.13 acres? If it does, the land plan waits until 2033. Our price does not depend on it either way — but the growth case does.

TENANT AND LEASE

- Full lease and every amendment; confirm who really pays for roof, structure and plant
- Both personal guarantees — what they cover, any caps, whether they burn off
- Guarantors' personal financial statements
- Tenant estoppel and the payment history since 2023

LEGAL, PLANNING AND BUILDING

- Cannabis licence status, expiry and any site-specific conditions
- Township approval, and whether the second cannabis licence is still available
- Pinelands Commission position; mains drainage or septic
- Whether a pad can be split off and built on
- The actual current tax bill, and the case for an appeal at our price
- Measure the floor area (4,400 SF claimed vs 4,206 on record)

ON THE EVIDENCE BEHIND THIS DECK

Rent and sale comparables are drawn from listing platforms, brokers' announcements and published market research. Most are asking rates and marketed prices, not verified completed deals — the Avis and Delsea lettings and the LivWell sale are the exceptions. All should be re-run against CoStar, Crexi and county deed records during diligence. Operating costs, fit-out, void and land figures are our estimates. This is an investment analysis, not a formal valuation.

Approve $1,100,000. Hold to $1,250,000.

OFFER	CEILING	WALK AWAY	THEIR ASK
$1,100,000	$1,250,000	$1,300,000	$1,600,000
All cash · 30-day diligence · 15-day close	Still returns 9.3%. Also where debt stops helping	Above the property's own value	Returns 4.3%. Decline

HOW WE WIN THE NEGOTIATION

1 Argue the rent, not the yield. Do not debate whether 8.25% is right. Show that $30/SF is not a market rent — and use his own signed comp on this road, which adjusts to $21.52.

2 Point at the county. Camden County's own equalized value is $1,271,000. An independent third party already says this is not a $1.6M building.

3 Sell certainty. Almost nobody can finance a cannabis-let building. All cash in 45 days is worth real money against a buyer whose loan dies.

WHAT WE DO AFTER WE OWN IT

Yr 0–1	Collect $132,000. Confirm the lease boundary and the tenant's sales. Appeal the assessment.
Yr 1–3	Entitle and let a pad; licence the EV charging. Spend ~$150,000, add ~$100,000 a year.
Yr 5–7	Market 18 months early. Land a doctor or credit union on a 10–15 year lease with increases.
Yr 8–10	Hold a passive, growing, mortgageable asset — or sell at ~$2.19M.

IN ONE LINE

A corner drive-thru at $250 a foot. Most of our money back before the lease ends, no modelled case that loses money, and 2.5 acres of free optionality that could double the asset.
